ENERGY Leave the West's oil alone because it's an economic driver for Canada, warned the premiers for Saskatchewan and Alberta during a joint cabinet meeting in Lloydminster yesterday.

After already scolding party leaders Monday over election promises made to cap oilsands developments some claim is a threat to Canada's environment, Premier Ed Stelmach told reporters the air quality is still better than most cities across the country.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the time, the air is a better quality than in the very same city where the person who is complaining the most lives in," said Stelmach who was possibly taking a swipe at NDP Leader Jack Layton who lives in Toronto.

drop since August 2007 equals more selection and make housing decisions.

"The market favours buyers because they have ample opportunity to choose from different options and more time to make decisions," he said.

Louie also said ultimately the prices may lower, too because people will sell for less than the asking price "to carry on with life."

However, Louie pointed out that multi-home starts are still surging.

"You can just look downtown and see all the condos being built to see that," he added.

"At all functions, it didn't seem to matter whether it was a wedding reception or what, we've had problems down there for years," he said.

But that may be because they weren't wedding receptions, as one source who

The victim was attending a dance party called 'Bouster & Stilettos' under the pretense of a wedding, but DJs were flown in to the city to spin at the event that didn't warm up until midnight.

"We've just been called to the ones that have gone awry. I think the people who rent out the halls have done their due diligence, but there is only so much they can do," Forsen said.

POLICE Calgarians might actually see the impact of city council's decision to boost the police budget by $25 million early next year.

Police chief Rick Hanson told reporters yesterday plans are already in the works to put a recruit class on the streets the first or second quarter next year thanks to the $25 million allocated to the police budget over three years.

"It won't happen overnight but we'll be putting these officers where they will have the most impact in the shortest amount of time," he said of plans to hire 400 officers in three years.

Hanson said the officers will be divided between beat patrol and district help, gang enforcement, preventive education programs and a more uniformed police presence.

Deportation order separates husband from pregnant wife

KRISTA SYLVESTER

Four months pregnant and alone while her husband sits in a U.S. jail isn't how one Calgarian pictured their life one year after the wedding.

That's the nightmare 21-year-old Angel Valentiner-Vieriv is living after her husband was arrested after he disobeyed a deportation ruling when his refugee status was denied.

"Yes, he was supposed to be deported and we know that maybe we should have gone, but we're married and I'm pregnant and I can't imagine facing this alone," Valentiner-Vieriv told Metro exclusively.

Her husband, 24-year-old William Valentiner claimed refugee status with his family from Venezuela, a place where he says is "too dangerous to raise a family" according to Valentiner-Vieriv.

band was the breadwinner; when she is forced to take maternity leave, she will not be able to make ends meet.

"If I use social programs I won't be allowed to sponsor my husband," she added.

Lorraine Lavallee with Citizenship and Immigration Canada said while she can't speak specifically on this matter, she said that just because someone marries a Canadian it doesn't ensure them citizenship.

"There are still procedures and rules to follow. They have to ensure it's a bona fide marriage," she told Metro. "If someone is ordered to leave and they overstay, they will be arrested and removed."

Ill kids need say in care: U of C study

KRISTA SYLVESTER

Chronically ill children should play an active role in their treatment and care, according to a University of Calgary research study.

Faculty of Nursing PhD student Andrea Pritchard discovered that sick kids want to be involved in managing their own illness, but are often left feeling excluded.

"This isn't necessarily the case given the dominant voices of parents, professional caregivers and health-care processes," explains Pritchard.

Pritchard explains chronically ill children should be kept informed and involved in their treatment and conducted a study over a year interviewing children between

Pritchard and those involved were able to come up with ideas to implement strategies to include kids, all of which are being utilized by the Alberta Children's Hospital.

A 3.75% interest rate takes the cake!

Open any of our[†] 3 bank accounts and earn 3.75% interest on all new deposits between September 1 and November 30, 2008.*

It's our 10th birthday! To celebrate, we're giving you a very sweet 3.75% interest on new balances when you sign up for a President's Choice Financial no fee bank account, Interest Plus™ savings account, or Interest First™ savings account.

3 great bank accounts, one amazing interest rate – only for a limited time!

President's Choice
FINANCIAL

Terms and Conditions for Promotional Deposit Rate Offer

The following Terms and Conditions explain in detail how up to 3.75% promotional annual interest rate can be earned on additional balances in an existing Eligible Account (as defined below) or on deposits to a new Eligible Account:

- "Eligible Account" means (i) an existing President's Choice Financial no fee bank account, Interest Plus savings account or Interest First savings account, and (ii) a new President's Choice Financial no fee bank account, Interest Plus savings account or Interest First savings account that is opened between September 1 and November 30, 2008 and in which funds are deposited during that period.
- 1. The President's Choice Financial promotional interest offer (the "Offer") begins on September 1, 2008 and continues until November 30, 2008 (the "Offer Period"). The Offer applies only to non-RRSP Eligible Accounts.
- 2. If an Eligible Account is jointly held, only the primary account holder designated on the account is eligible for the Offer. Promotional interest will be calculated based on the primary account holder's Eligible Account(s).
- 3. Under the Offer, promotional interest ("Promotional Interest") is the amount of interest to be paid that is in excess of the regular interest paid on each Eligible Account balance. This means that the Promotional annual Interest rate, plus the regular annual interest rate, on an Eligible Account is 3.75%. Promotional Interest will be paid on the portion of the primary account holder's Eligible Account(s) average daily closing balance(s) during the Offer Period that exceed(s) the/their closing balance(s) as at August 31, 2008 (the "Additional Balance"). If an Eligible Account is overdrawn as at August 31, 2008, the August 31, 2008 closing balance is deemed to be zero. If an Eligible Account is opened during the Offer Period, it will earn a combined rate equal to the current Promotional Interest rate plus the current regular interest rate on the average daily closing balance from the date it is opened for the duration of the Offer Period.
- 4. Eligible Accounts will continue to earn regular interest on balances, calculated daily and paid monthly. With the no fee bank account you earn a higher regular rate on higher balances, and with the Interest Plus Savings Account you earn a higher regular rate on balances over $1,000 as well as bonus anniversary interest.
- 5. The Promotional Interest will be paid in December 2008 to the primary account holder's Eligible Account. If a primary account holder holds more than one Eligible Account, at least one of the Eligible Accounts must remain active and in good standing as at November 30, 2008 so that Promotional Interest for all Eligible Accounts held by that account holder may be credited to that account holder's Eligible Account. If a primary account holder holds more than one Eligible Account, the Promotional Interest for each Eligible Account will be aggregated and paid to one Eligible Account in the following sequence:
 - a. To the primary account holder's Interest Plus savings account, if it is active and in good standing;
 - b. To the primary account holder's Interest First savings account, if it is active and in good standing; otherwise
 - c. To the primary account holder's no fee bank account, if it is active and in good standing.
- 6. Promotional Interest will not be earned on any Additional Balances on a primary account holder's Eligible Account(s) in excess of $1,000,000 in the aggregate during the Offer Period. The provider of President's Choice Financial personal banking services (the direct banking division of CIBC), reserves the right to change the terms of the Offer at anytime, and revoke the Offer for any customer who appears to be manipulating or abusing the Offer, or is engaged in any suspicious/fraudulent activity.
- 7. PLEASE NOTE: Promotional Interest as well as regular rates are subject to change at any time; please speak to a President's Choice Financial personal banking representative for current rates.

Harper, Layton steadfast in refusing to allow May to debate on TV

PAUL MCLEOD

The Green party is still fighting to get into the leaders' debates, but the Conservatives and NDP stand in their way.

Green party Leader Elizabeth May was shut out of the debates by a consortium of TV broadcasters, which said other party leaders refused to participate if May was allowed to speak.

Workers claim they were duped

MEETING Desperate laid-off forestry workers said they were tricked into attending NDP Leader Jack Layton's town hall meeting yesterday in Thunder Bay, Ont.

At least five members of the Canadian Energy and Paper Workers union told reporters they were told it was going to be a meeting about benefits.

"I got an e-mail from the union thinking it was a union meeting on severance and EI (Employment Insurance) benefits. When I seen the bus out front I knew there was a politician," said a man who refused to give his name.

However, Allan Pert, a life-long resident of Thunder Bay and laid-off sawmill worker, confirmed he received the same e-mail, which actually came from the CEP action centre, not the local union.

Besides this, Layton was also called on what appeared to be planted questions from the crowd of more than 100 supporters.

TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Liberal Leader Stéphane Dion has called for May to be included in the debate and Bloc Québécois Leader Gilles Duceppe backed off yesterday by saying he would take part either way.

But Conservative Leader Stephen Harper and NDP Leader Jack Layton remained steadfast. They said it would be a second voice for the Liberals because of May's comments supporting Dion and the fact the Liberals are not running a candidate against her in

Tough battle

- On legal turf, May faces a tough battle to challenge her exclusion. Charles Dalfen, a former chair of Canada's broadcast regulator, the Canadian Radio-television and

"The idea that there's some kind of broad coalition with the Liberals is nonsense," said May. "We're running in 306 ridings across Canada where we are trying to defeat Liberals and Liberals are trying to defeat Greens."

May said she wanted to use the debates as a way to expand on the Green party's platforms other than the environment — such as fiscal responsibility and tax reform.

But an NDP spokesman told Metro News that May should not be allowed in the debates because of her comments supporting the Liberals — period.

"If Ms. May endorses Stéphane Dion for prime minister she can't be in this debate," said press secretary Ian Capstick.

Capstick said May wouldn't bring anything to the debate because the Green party is a single-issue party.

Mayor blasts Harper, Dion

CITIES Prime Minister Stephen Harper and Liberal Leader Stéphane Dion rolled into Toronto yesterday looking to woo urban voters — and got a blast from Mississauga, Ont., Mayor Hazel McCallion demanding that Ottawa do more to help Canada's cities.

McCallion laid out a chilly welcome mat for the two leaders, telling a Mississauga Board of Trade luncheon that the cash being spent on the election triggered by the Conservatives — some $297 million — should have been pumped into municipal infrastructure.

Stressing she's non-partisan, McCallion lambasted successive federal governments — Liberal and Conservative — for the fact that Ontario "has been discriminated against for many years."

There must be change, said McCallion. "Are we going to stand up and make that happen?"

News in brief

CONCEPT The Liberals' Green Shift environmental plan has often been criticized as too complicated to sell to the public. So Stéphane Dion says he wants to simplify the concept, which is to raise taxes sharply on polluting activities and transfer the money back to Canadians in the form of lower personal and corporate income taxes. "It's very simple: I will give you the Liberal plan in six words," Dion now says. "Cut Income Taxes. Shift To Pollution."

WORDS The Gaelic translation of "Vote Green Party," according to Elizabeth May's brother, is "Vó-tadh Partaíd Uaine." May says "partaíd" is derived from the English word for party but spelled and pronounced differently. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

McCain swaying white women?

Obama lags slightly behind in polls following Palin's nomination

Presidential candidate
Barack Obama brushed aside a survey released yesterday that showed him losing support among white women voters to John McCain since Sarah Palin was named as his running mate.

A Washington Post/ABC News survey found most of McCain's surge in the polls since the Republican convention was due to a big shift in support among white women voters.

"The notion that people are swinging back and forth in the span of a few weeks or a few days this wildly generally isn't borne out," Obama said.

The poll found the race for the White House is a virtual tie, with Obama at 47 per cent support of registered voters and McCain at 46 per cent.

Before the Democratic convention in late August, Obama held an 8 percentage point lead among white women voters. But after the Republican convention, McCain was ahead by 12 points among

22 nations back Obama: Poll

ELECTION Barack Obama may be struggling to nudge ahead of John McCain in polls at home, but people around the world want him in the White House, a BBC poll says.

Russia sending warship to Caribbean

MOSCOW Russia said on Monday it would send a heavily-armed nuclear-powered cruiser, among other ships, to the Caribbean for a joint naval exercise with Venezuela.

Russian officials denied the mission was linked to a standoff with U.S. warships in the Black Sea, while Washington downplayed the importance of the exercise.

Russia has criticised the United States for sending a command ship and two other naval vessels to Georgia, on its southern border, to deliver aid after Moscow sent troops into Georgia. REUTERS

A Russian Foreign Ministry spokesman said that the November mission would include the nuclear-powered battle cruiser "Peter the Great", one of the world's largest warships, as well as Moscow's most modern destroyer, the "Admiral Chabanenko", and other vessels. REUTERS

Hosting cooking show lands leader in hot water

After seven months of turbulent rule, Thai Prime Minister Samak Sundaravej's passion for hot, spicy food has forced him out of power — only briefly.

The combative 73-year-old politician has survived months of street protests, graft probes, a hostile media, disobedient generals and sniping from the country's revered king.

But he ran foul of the constitution by hosting TV cooking show "Tasting, Grumbling" while in office, a top court ruled yesterday, ordering him to resign because he had worked for a private broadcaster.

RESEARCH Two U.S. researchers whose work could boost efforts to eradicate blindness have won a one million euro prize, Portugal's Champalimaud Foundation said yesterday.

Dr. Jeremy Nathans and Dr. King-Wai Yau, both professors at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, share the award for their work on how light is converted into electric signals used by the brain to create vision. The money will fund the scientists' "ongoing, cutting-edge vision research," the foundation said. The research may contribute to treatment of potentially blinding diseases as age-related retinal molecular degeneration.

Housing market rebounds

Canadian housing starts rebounded in August, beating expectations, but some economists cautioned against reading too much into the number since it followed a weak reading in July.

Housing starts rose 13 per cent in August to a seasonally adjusted annualized rate of 211,000 units from 186,500 units in July, the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corp. said.

The bulk of the overall gain, which topped the consensus analysts' expectation for 195,000 starts, was in Ontario, where there was an 81 per cent jump.

The government-owned CMHC attributed the surge to multiple-unit starts, which shot up 25.2 per cent to 114,700 units following a 20.2 per cent slide in July.

But some experts cautioned that since the bounce back in housing starts followed weakness, it doesn't mean that Canadian housing activity is buoyant. REUTERS

Argos add 'The Don'

Matthews overcomes anxiety woes to make return to CFL

Don Matthews knew it was pretty much over for him after his Montreal Alouettes nosed the Bombers 23-20 in Winnipeg.

The date was Sept. 29, 2006, and marked both his record 357th game as a head coach in the CFL and his record 231st win. They were also his last of each.

Friday night at the Rogers Centre, it'll be Matthews at the Toronto Argonaut tiller for a third time.

Now 69, but hearty and hale once again, Matthews was re-introduced yesterday as Argo head coach, stepping in for the beleaguered Rich Stubler, who was dismissed with a 4-6 record in his first season at the helm.

About the first thing Matthews did with his turn at yesterday's mike was to clarify why he abruptly resigned from the Alouettes, from his 30 years in the CFL, some five days after that Winnipeg win — but with four games left in the regular season.

The reason: crippling anxiety.

"It was debilitating," said Matthews. "I couldn't go out of the house. When I did, I wanted to hurry and get back in. When I talked to the team about it, I could hardly speak. And it wasn't just football, it was everything. I was such a mess."

The Als were off to a 7-0 start when Matthews first informed management of his progressively worsening condition.

"We went six more weeks and it got worse," said Matthews. "They called it a 'performance anxiety.' At the end, I could not put myself on the field."

The win in Winnipeg was the kicker.

Five days after that win, Matthews disappeared, as he'd always said he wanted to, "in a puff of smoke."

Chelios back for one more

The Detroit Red Wings and Chris Chelios, left, made it official yesterday, as the eternally-young defenceman signed a one-year deal allowing him to return for a 25th NHL season. The 46-year-old Chelios, left, had three goals and 12 points in 69 regular-season games for the Wings in 2007-08.

Recreational Properties

Disposable income a boon

ALICIA FOX
for Metro Calgary

High disposable income in Calgary has led to high interest in recreational real estate, even if the interest isn't leading to actual purchases.

According to the Royal LePage Report on Recreational Real Estate released earlier this summer, Albertans were the lowest in Canada to own cottages, but those who did were the most likely to own two or more.

Lai Sing Louie with Canada Mortgage and Housing

Corporation said the hottest properties to buy are in the mountain and lake resorts, such as Canmore, Fernie, or Sylvan Lake.

"You need a higher income to be able to afford a recreational property," said Louie, who adds that high disposable income is not unusual in Calgary.

Bob Aishford with Royal LePage in Canmore said he has seen more people in their 30s and 40s coming in and buying property, which was unheard of even 15 years ago, and said that many of the recreational amenities such as the Banff Centre are drawing high interest to the community.

But if Calgarians are looking to finance a recreational property, it's not likely they'll have many choices, according to Adam Crosby with Mortgage Intelligence.

Crosby said that most people are now looking to refinance their property and take the equity out to invest in a second property, since a lot of lenders shy away from lending money for what they consider less marketable properties in small towns.

Timeshares and a new fad called fractional ownership, where a buyer owns only a portion and only has access for a portion of the year, are harder to deal with and most banks, other than ATB Financial, avoid it.

"If it's stretching your budget, it might not be a smart thing," said Crosby of refinancing, but says that many baby boomers are retiring and the extra cash flow that has many people sitting pretty would leave them comfortable with real estate investments.

"It's perfect because it's only four hours away," Brookes said, adding that renting, camping, and bed and breakfasts have been consistent disappointments.

"We've been squeezed out of everything because we own dogs or places have closed down," she said.

For her six-year-old son, Colin, it's a place she doesn't have to keep him on a 10-foot leash, she said, and it's important to them as parents that he have a good place to go and be a kid.

While they're not in it for the investment, her friends bought in the same area just last year for a third of the price she paid and she's noticed more people gravitating towards owning recreational properties.

Shopping around in Western Canada revealed that it's "far better bang for your buck" down there and while timeshares were always an option, she said it's dependent on the individual since she doesn't "share well with others."

Good Vibe-rations

Practicality takes centre stage for Pontiac compact

MICHAEL BANOVSKY
for Metro Canada

If the Pontiac Vibe was an appetizer, it would be the California Roll — delicious sushi on the inside and yet easy to handle and appealing on the outside.

The Vibe is a product of a General Motors and Toyota alliance. Its sister car is the Toyota Matrix. While underneath, the Vibe utilizes a Toyota platform and engines, the exterior is modern Americana.

There are small differences between the two content-wise — for instance a Monsoon stereo is only available on the Vibe (and a JBL stereo is exclusive to the Matrix) — but from the driver's seat you would be hard pressed to notice a different driving experience.

Probably the most popular variant will be the Vibe with all-wheel-drive, as its larger engine (2.4-litre 4-cylinder with 158 horsepower) and plastic-lined rear cargo area should make it the most practical for any environment.

From an enthusiast's standpoint, however, I wonder how long it'll take a Pontiac engineer to install a turbocharged Ecotec engine into the Vibe. Inside, again, practicality

Vehicle insurance myths debunked

When it comes to auto insurance, many Canadians are not sure what's fact or fiction. To help you better understand auto insurance, RBC Insurance debunks the top five auto insurance myths.

1. The colour of my car affects my insurance premium.

Many factors determine premiums including your vehicle's year, make, model, body type and engine size. The colour of your vehicle is not one of them.

2. If I use my car for work and have an accident, my employer's insurance will cover it.

Your employer may reimburse you for mileage, but your own insurance provides coverage in case of an accident. If you use your vehicle for work, you should be advising your agent or broker of this business use.

3. Parking tickets increase insurance premiums.

Parking tickets do not affect insurance premiums. But a licence suspension from unpaid fines can affect your driving record, resulting in higher insurance premiums.

4. If my friend borrows my car and has an accident, their insurance will pay for damages.

If you lend your car, you lend your insurance. Any claims will be made under your policy, even if you were not involved in the accident.

5. Auto insurance companies can charge what they want.

Auto insurance is subject to significant regulatory requirements. Insurance companies must submit their automobile insurance rates to government agencies for approval.

'09 Honda Fit greener, safer

SUBCOMPACT The 2009 Honda Fit, set to go on sale across Canada on Sept. 15 with a suggested retail price of $14,980, is designed to further its leadership in the subcompact segment with top-of-class fuel economy, feature content, safety and interior functionality.

It features an enhanced sporty demeanour to increase its fun-to-drive character through a more powerful engine and improved suspension, steering and body rigidity.

"The new Fit is designed to raise the bar in the Canadian subcompact market by taking what is already great about the Fit and making it even better," says Jerry Chenkin, executive vice-president of Honda Canada.

The Lexus models before the IS F — the IS 250 and IS 350 — are plenty sporty in their own rites, but can't come close to the F for sheer driving exhilaration and outright raw performance.

Shattering stereotypes

High-performing IS F hard to resist

JOE KNYCHA
for Metro Canada

2009 Lexus IS F

Type: Sedan
Price: $64,000
Engine: V8, DOHC, 5.2L
HP: 416@6600
Torque: 371@5200

Highlights

- Athletic styling
- Sport performance appeal
- Tremendous smoothness
- Unique exhaust system sounds

Visual clues that allude to its athleticism are found everywhere, from the redesigned front grille and fascia, bulging hood, flared fenders, huge Brembo brakes front and rear, lowered body and vertically stacked, twin exhaust ports sticking out the back, and from which emanate those dulcet and intoxicating sounds.

With a top speed of 270 km/h (electronically limited), a zero-100 km/h time of 4.8 seconds and a quarter-mile time of 13 seconds flat, this car is expected to broaden the Lexus appeal to include performance-driving enthusiasts who would not otherwise consider the brand.

Steering is quick and direct, assisted by a calibrated electric power system, with no on-centre vagueness detected; the driver feels well in touch with the road and the car inspires confidence.

Seldom, if ever, has so much power, technology, style, build quality and sheer excitement been available to buyers in the IS F's price range.

The Lexus IS F is possibly the first Lexus of any of the brand's stripe to be instantly recognized as a serious, take-no-prisoners sports car.

The models before it — the IS 250 and IS 350 — are plenty sporty in their own rites, but can't come close to the F for sheer driving exhilaration and outright raw performance.

This chest-thumping, bellowing beast puts the "high" in performance. It seats five in leather-wrapped, hand-stitched comfort and will carry most of their luggage, too.

And if that doesn't get your attention, just listen to the thing in full song as it rips ever so precisely through the eight gears in its "Sport Direct Shift" automatic transmission.

It sounds so cool that Lexus has built an advertising campaign around the IS F's unique engine/exhaust sounds.

The F takes the IS series

Heathrow T5 is back on track

British Airways' intercontinental flights to London will begin using Heathrow's spectacular new Terminal 5 this month and next. The transfer from Terminal 4 was to occur in April, but was put off after T5's opening proved truly chaotic, what with staff shortages; long, long lines at check-in; and hundreds of cancelled and delayed flights. British Airways officials say T5 is operating smoothly now. AVIATION.COM

A weekend in the Windy City

Chicago holds a reputation in North America for being a city of culture, with opulent art, innovative architecture and shopping venues that appeal to people from all walks of life. One of the best ways to enjoy Chicago is on foot, but the Windy City on Lake Michigan also offers transit by train, bus, cab and water taxi, which can help tourists cover a lot of terrain easily.

Friday

5 p.m. Sip a Mojito Chic cocktail made from 10-cane rum at the Lobby Bar & Lounge in the Marriott Hotel on the Magnificent Mile before setting out along the upscale shopping strip known for such iconic structures as the Wrigley Building and the Tribune Tower.

7 p.m. Enjoy spectacular views of the city and Lake Michigan while dining in the Signature Lounge on the 96th floor of the John Hancock Center on Michigan Avenue, a 100-storey building with a screened outdoor observatory. Sample cocktails or opt to eat a range of appetizers, including the baked Brie and the chipotle guacamole, instead of a full meal.

Saturday

9:30 a.m. Take the "Chicago Architecture Foundation Highlights by Bus" tour, which covers such notable areas as the Loop, Hyde Park, the Gold Coast, the lakefront and historic neighborhoods. The tour includes stops at works by such internationally renowned architects as

The Lurie Garden in Chicago's Millennium Park against part of the city's impressive skyline.

Frank Lloyd Wright, Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, Rem Koolhaas and others.

1:15 p.m. Lunch on a salad of tomato, mozzarella, basil and balsamic dressing in the Garden Restaurant courtyard at the Art Institute of Chicago.

ture American Prairie Style architecture and raising six children with his first wife.

12:30 p.m. Get a take away lunch at the Tasty Dog on Lake Street and eat in Skokie Park en route to Wright's Unity Temple. The temple was designed in 1905 as a place of worship for the Unitarian Universalist Congregation and has since been designated a U.S. National Historic Landmark.

In the guts of the building, three floors of seats are placed in a semi-circle facing the stage. All eyes are on a joyous choir, singing and swaying to synthesized music. The church is devoid of stained-glass windows and religious iconography, but it does have several large screens above the stage and camera men panning across the crowd.

The church has a BYOB policy — bring your own Bible. But it does provide headphones, which I plug into a little black box offering English, Japanese, Chinese, Spanish, French, Russian, Indonesian and Arabic translations. With patience, I'm able to understand a bit of what retired Rev. David Yonggi Cho is saying.

"Our neighbours in North Korea are suffering. We must care about social problems. They are our brothers, sisters and neighbours. Love your neighbours and love the church with your soul, body and mind," he preaches. Though 72 years old, his voice echoes through the church. The crowd breathes a collective Amen.

Post-Oscar flops

Some filmmakers fail to follow up on success

STEVE GOW
for Metro Canada

Some critics are downright disheartened by Burn After Reading — the Coen Brothers' highly-anticipated follow-up to No Country for Old Men.

Todd McCarthy of Variety even called it a "film that feels misjudged from the opening scene and thereafter." That's pretty surprising for the subsequent effort to last year's Academy Award-winning Best Film. Isn't it?

Well, not exactly. While no one is slotting Burn After Reading in the same category as say, SuperBabies: Baby Geniuses

2, the quirky comedy could still prove that winning an Academy Award does not always guarantee a director will go on to make an immediate masterpiece.

Take John Madden for instance, who followed-up his award-winning romantic-drama Shakespeare in Love with the dreary Nicolas Cage adaptation of Captain Corelli's Mandolin. And don't forget filmmaker Rob Marshall who won the Oscar for Chicago only to let movie fans down with Memoirs of a Geisha two years later.

These are just two critically praised filmmakers who failed to follow-up their statuettes with a masterful flick.

In 1985, filmmaker Sydney Pollack took Robert Redford Out of Africa and transported him to stinky Havana. The huge 1990 epic was a bust both at the box office and with critics.

Peter Travers of Rolling Stone wrote, "You expect more of stars Robert Redford and Lena Olin, director Sydney Pollack and a $40 million budget than an uncredited and unpalatable rehash of Casablanca."

Yikes! That's a long road from standing behind the winner's podium at the Oscars show.

Perhaps the biggest post-Oscar flop has come courtesy of none other than Ron Howard. Skilled as he is behind the camera, after taking home the big prize for 2001's A Beautiful Mind, the actor-turned-auteur came up with The Missing.

With a budget of $65 million, the Tommy Lee Jones/Cate Blanchett thriller was a huge post-Oscar disappointment, earning less than half its budget back.

It seems the only thing really missing was a follow-up movie that an audience was hungry to see.

Whether Burn After Reading will fall under the same curse that The Missing did is yet to be determined, but perhaps that doesn't even concern the Coens.

Instead, maybe the brothers share the theory of journalist Herbert B. Swope who once said, "I cannot give the formula for success, but I can give you the formula of failure — which is try to please everybody."

Booker shortlist announced

India well represented in this year's search for the best in fiction

Tales from rural India, secretive Ireland and strike-riven northern England are all vying for the Man Booker Prize for Fiction, one of the world's most prestigious literary awards.

Aravind Adiga, whose book The White Tiger tracks the ambitions and divided loyalties of the son of a rickshaw puller from an Indian village, is a first-time novelist.

The former TIME magazine correspondent is the bookmakers' favourite to take the annual prize, worth about $90,000 to the winner.

A second Indian writer is on the shortlist of six, Kolkata-born Amitav Ghosh with Sea of Poppies, a story set on an old slave ship before the Opium Wars.

But there was no place for Mumbai-born Salman Rushdie, who was named Best of the Booker winners in July to mark the prize's 40th anniversary.

The renowned novelist won the Booker prize in 1981 with Midnight's Children, but his latest work The Enchantress of Florence failed to make the shortlist despite being heavily backed by bookies when it appeared on the longlist.

The second debut novelist on the shortlist this year is a former private investigator from Australia, Steve Toltz, and his book of familial adventure A Fraction of the Whole.

Linda Grant's The Clothes on Their Backs, a book about the psychology of clothes, has been nominated, as has Irish writer Sebastian Barry, whose The Secret Scripture depicts the shocking story of a woman growing up in Sligo in the 1930s.

British novelist Philip Hensher uses the 1984 backdrop of the miners' strike to follow the lives of two families and a changing social landscape in the north of England over 20 years in his book The Northern Clemency.

Chair of the judges Michael Portillo described each of the six pieces of work as an "extraordinary example of imagination

"These fine page-turning stories nonetheless raise highly thought-provoking ideas and issues. These books are in every case both ambitious and approachable."

Driver gives birth to boy

MOTHERHOOD Minnie Driver became a first-time mom to son Henry Story Driver, People.com reports her rep as saying.

The baby was born Friday in Los Angeles and weighed nine pounds, 12 ounces, rep Jessica Kolstad says.

Driver, 38, who has not revealed the identity of the father, has said that the dad will be involved in the baby's life.

"He's going to be a dad so, yeah, he's going to be there for the kid," she said. "I'm not getting married to this person and I don't know what's going to happen but everyone is cool about the situation."

As the new mom takes on her most important role yet, Driver says she is looking forward to simply observing and spending time with her child.

"Babies are endlessly fascinating to look at and I'm obsessed about their complete and utter lack of guile. I'm looking forward to seeing life through the eyes of my own kid."

She also says she plans on spending lots of time hanging out at the beach with her child.

"I love the ocean and this baby will probably be surfing and swimming before it can walk."

Kids changed Damon

CHILDREN Actor Matt Damon loves that he's become a dad again, because his new baby daughter has opened up his heart, imdb.com reports.

Damon's wife, Luciana Barroso, gave birth to the couple's second child, Gia Zavala Damon, last month.

"It probably influences me in ways I'm not even

"This makes no sense at all..."

by Joe O'Neill

Jerry O'Connell says he made a big mistake on Conan O'Brien's show when he joked about the size of Rebecca Romijn, who is expecting the couple's twins.

This statement shows Jerry is a master of the understatement. Apparently, his Secret Identity is being a huge idiot. It's hard to believe anyone with such a poor grasp of the female psyche ever got close enough to one to get her pregnant.

Jerry needs to read the pregnancy book I wrote especially for celebrity fathers-to-be. It's called Celebspawn: Anticipating the Arrival of Your Craven Publicist's Future Pawns. In it, Jerry will learn many women are apt to feel self-conscious about their size while pregnant, and may be sensitive to remarks you make about it on, say, national television. He will learn nicknames like Goodyear, Earthball and H.R. Puffinstuff are rarely appreciated. He'll learn the three stages of celebrity pregnancy are gestation, childbirth, and negotiation with People Magazine for the photo rights. And lastly, Jerry will learn that if he doesn't let her cool down, the flowers he brings home will also be his dinner. I believe it was Shakespeare who wrote, "Hell hath no fury like a pregnant woman mocked on Conan."

Child star points blame at family

HEALTH Former child star Corey Feldman blames his parents for pushing him into acting at an early age, and reportedly holds them responsible for his troubled life, imdb.com reports.

"It wasn't the industry's fault, it was my parents—they should have been more responsible and laid the groundwork for me to build a healthy adult life," Feldman says. "I was 17 and already I'd become a joke to some people."

O'Connell sorry for gaffe

RELATIONSHIPS Jerry O'Connell admits he made a big mistake, People.com reports.

The star of the new sitcom Do Not Disturb is apologizing to wife Rebecca Romijn—who is pregnant with twin girls—for joking about her size when he appeared on a late-night talk show recently.

"I regret calling my wife

'huge' on Conan O'Brien," O'Connell says. "I meant to say that there are specific areas of my wife that are larger than normal and growing every day. All other portions of my wife are quite petite. I apologize to her and will be coming home with flowers."

O'Connell, 34, and Romijn, 36, who will appear on Ugly Betty again this fall, expect their daughters this winter.
